Telstar Links Europe, U.S. With TV Shows

France, England Both Send Live Television Via New Satellite

NEW YORK (AP)—The Telstar satellite linked the Old World with the New Wednesday night by relaying French and British television into American homes.

For the first time in history Americans were able to watch a French television program as it was being broadcast.

Several hours later, a program came to TV screens in this country "live" from Goochilly Downs, England.

While the programs originated in Europe, both came here by a circuitous route to and from outer space. European signals were beamed skyward to rendezvous with the Telstar satellite.

Telstar will be called upon to perform another first between 5 and 6 p.m. Friday — the first transatlantic telephone call via satellite. Speaking will be Eugene J. McNeely, of New York, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., and a French Telephone official in Paris.

The 170-pound, man-made heavenly wonder picked up the signals, magnified them 10 billion times and beamed them down again to this portion of our shrinking earth.

This entire procedure took only milliseconds, since television signals travel at the speed of light — 186,000 miles per second — and Telstar is never more than 3,500 miles above the earth.

In less technical terms, the achievement brought French singer Yves Montand and lovely blonde chanteuse Michel Arnaud onto American screens. The program was so clear it might have been coming from around the block.

The French presentation was taped earlier in Paris for the historic broadcast from Lannion in Brittany and was seen here on all three networks for eight minutes beginning at 6:35 p.m. EST.

Telstar was on its 15th orbit around the earth, moving from Newfoundland to the English Channel, when it relayed the French signals here. As it moved eastward and out of range at its speed of 16,000 m.p.h., the television picture dissolved into static patterns.

Several hours later, CBS made use of Telstar's 16th orbit to relay history's first live show from England to the United States. The 12-minute program featured British officials explaining the transmission controls at Goochilly Downs and praising the American achievement.

Shortly before the France-to-America telecast, the British saw a second transmission from the United States via space.

The first time was on Tuesday, when pictures beamed by way of the satellite from Andover, Maine, back to the United States were received unexpectedly in Goochilly Downs. However, the pictures at that time were scratchy, and no sound came through.

4 Major Crimes Noted Each Minute

WASHINGTON (AP)—The FBI reported today that four major crimes a minute were committed in the United States last year—an all-time high.

Other features of the report: In 1961 there were an estimated 1,926,000 crimes of murder, forcible rape, robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, larceny and auto theft. This was a 3 per cent increase over the previous record set in 1960.

Crimes committed by persons under 18 rose 4 per cent over 1960.

There were 71 law enforcement officers killed last year and 13,190 assaults against police officers were recorded—an average of eight for every 100 officers.

Crippled Girl Wins Her MD, Thanks to Carolina Friends

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—It's Birgitta Ahlberg, M.D., now thanks to the folks of North and South Carolina and her own valiant battle against crippling misfortune.

The Swedish girl was given her doctor of medicine degree here Wednesday. She plans to be a psychiatrist.

She said she never will be able to thank her benefactors enough.

A 27-year-old woman now, Birgitta still bears some of the scars of that day in August 1958 when she stumbled into the whirling propeller of a small excursion plane taking visiting youngsters for sightseeing flights around Greensboro, N.C. The propeller cut off her right arm, mangled her face and inflicted severe body injuries.

Birgitta was a member of a group of Methodist young people visiting Greensboro on a church exchange program. She and her parents were active in Methodist affairs in Sweden.

For a month she was treated in a hospital.

When she was flown home in a military plane, she went with enough to pay her medical bills. North and South Carolina established a Birgitta Ahlberg fund and the money flowed in, more than a check for $9,000—over and above the costs of medical care.

More surgical and medical treatment came at home.

There have been 11 plastic surgical operations, all paid for out of the Carolinas fund.

Meantime, Birgitta plugged away at her medical books, the fund helping pay for her education.

Birgitta said that getting her medical degree was "the happiest day of my life. . . I am almost glad I had the accident. If it had not happened, I would never have learned how generous and kind-hearted Americans could be."

ALBANY, Ga. (AP)—Integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. and the Rev. Ralph Abernathy were released from jail today over their protests after someone paid fines for them.

They left the City Jail under protest since by serving their 45-day sentences they had hoped to rally sentiment behind their non-violent challenge of segregation in this south Georgia city.

City officials disclaimed definite knowledge of who put up money for the $178 fines. Police Chief Laurie Pritchett quoted the desk sergeant as saying they were paid in cash by a well-dressed Negro man but no name was given.

King himself said he had no idea who furnished the money to free him. He said he and Abernathy had received "no treatment during their stay in jail."

"We didn't want to leave," he said, "but we couldn't stay any longer. It makes us very, very unhappy."

The police chief of this racially troubled south Georgia city made a personal appeal to Negroes Wednesday night to refrain from violence after stones and clods of dirt were thrown at his officers.

King's jailing set off protest demonstrations by Negroes, resulting in the arrest of 32 Wednesday and Police Chief Laurie Pritchett's appeal for calm.

More protest marches are expected.

Officers on duty near the Shiloh Baptist Church, where Negroes held a mass meeting Wednesday night, summoned Pritchett after the rock-throwing.

The officers began moving as if to cross the street toward the church when suddenly several hundred persons, including numerous youths, came out of the church.

Pritchett arrived just then and told the Negroes he wanted to talk with him. Most of them returned inside the building and the tough situation ended, although some officers who accompanied the chief got cat-calls and jeers from some of the negro youths.

Prior to the appeal by Pritchett, Albany Negro leader Dr. W. G. Anderson urged, in effect, that the Negroes prepare to march again and, if necessary, go to jail.

"We feel we must confront this evil system," Anderson said. "If it means going to jail, I'll go to jail because this evil system must be done away with."

Rebel Algerian Chief Ready To Divide Nation

Ben Bella near Oran After Split with Moderate Ben Khedda

ALGIERS (AP)—Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was expected to stage a triumphal entrance into Oran today and establish himself as the power of western Algeria.

The leftist deputy premier, who split with Premier Ben Khedda's moderate regime on the eve of Algerian independence, made his delayed return to Algeria Wednesday and received a hero's welcome.

Thousands of Moslems turned out to greet him as he journeyed from the Moroccan frontier to Tlemcen, 75 miles south of Oran, Algeria's second city.

His next stop was Oran, where thousands of his armed supporters already were in control. Then he planned to proceed to Algiers and a possible showdown with Ben Khedda over leadership of the fledgling Algerian nation.

In Algiers, Ben Khedda's regime was reported growing increasingly uneasy as Ben Bella demonstrated his hold on the Moslem masses on his journey through western Algeria. But Ben Bella struck a moderate pose.

Addressing a crowd of 6,000 Wednesday in the sports stadium at Tlemcen, Ben Bella made no direct mention of his rift with Ben Khedda. But he expressed hope that the new nation would solve its difficulties through the cooperation of the army, the people and the government.

Ben Bella spoke from a position of strength. He has the support of the 45,000-man liberation army now returning from exile in Morocco and Tunisia and of a great share of the former Moslem guerrilla units inside Algeria. And obviously he is the idol of western Algeria's Moslem civilians.

Ben Bella broke with Ben Khedda on the announced issue of Ben Khedda's dismissal of the three top officers of the liberation army for allegedly planning a military dictatorship for Algeria. Underlying the rift, however, is Ben Bella's opposition to Ben Khedda's policy of close cooperation with France. Ben Bella advocates sweeping socialism in Algeria in an Arab vein.

THE delegation saw Lloyd for 10 minutes and was told that the government would reply to the petition as soon as possible.

Then the delegation joined the demonstrators outside for two hours of speeches.

The keep-our-doctors committee sought suspension of the medical care act to allow the striking doctors to return to normal service. This would be followed by negotiations between the government and the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons to draft a medical care act acceptable to everybody.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Donald K. (Deke) Slayton has lost his solo flight space wings because of heart trouble.

The 38-year-old Air Force major, a former jet test pilot, bowed reluctantly Wednesday to the prospect of ground duty in Project Mercury.

This will involve engineering and planning work on the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo projects and other programs of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Slayton is not definitely ruled out of participation in the two-man Gemini and three-man Apollo flights that will follow the one-man Mercury experiments.

"We are not crossing every bridge in the future," Webb said. The decision on Slayton virtually assures an Air Force colleague, Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., an early try at space travel.

Cooper, 35, will be the next astronaut aloft after the forthcoming 6-orbit attempt of Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. Schirra's flight is tentatively planned for early September and the Cooper mission might be the last on the schedule for 1962.

According to the announcement, France will buy the gold "in order to realize a more customary relationship between gold and dollars in French international reserves."

As part of the prepayment of postwar debts, France will completely liquidate the remaining $209.7 million owed on loans granted under the Marshall Plan in addition, France will pay $33.7 million to cover installments due in 1970 and 1971 under the postwar loan granted in 1956 by the Export-Import Bank.

Both unions have set July 23 as a strike date against 51 major aircraft and missile plants across the country. About 125,000 aerospace workers would be affected.

A UAW official said North American had proposed extending the contract to Aug. 11, with any settlement retroactive to July 9.

"We want a settlement, not a strike," said Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president. "But in the days remaining before July 23, there are more than enough hours to work out solutions to all problems which remain on the bargaining table."

He said negotiations, so far, had been "very nearly fruitless."

WASHINGTON (AP)—France is paying off ahead of schedule $293.4 million of debts owed the United States and is purchasing $112.5 million of American gold.

The mixture of good and bad news was disclosed today by the Treasury in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary Douglas Dillon and French Finance Minister Giscard d'Estaing.

The gold purchase will mark the first significant reduction in the U.S. gold supply in about two months. It will reduce the Treasury's gold holdings to $16.3 billion—the lowest level in more than two decades.

According to the announcement, France will buy the gold "in order to realize a more customary relationship between gold and dollars in French international reserves."

Premier Studies Call For Program Change

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Premier Woodrow Lloyd and his cabinet are weighing a reply to a citizens rally petition for a new law to replace Saskatchewan's controversial medical care insurance plan.

But Lloyd said the rally Wednesday has not changed the Social Insurance provincial government's stand.

The demonstration brought several thousand persons from all parts of the province into the capital.

Committee organizers claimed a predicted 30,000 persons came into Regina for the rally. Police Chief A. G. Cookson estimated it at 12,000.

But Lloyd said it was no more than 3,000 and declared "the size of the crowd doesn't lend support to claims of overwhelming opposition to the government."

The placard-carrying demonstrators gathered in a picnic mood outside the provincial legislature buildings while a 12-man delegation from the keep-our-doctors sponsoring committee presented the petition to Lloyd and his aides.

The petition asked suspension of the medical care act that went into effect July 1 and precipitated the strike of doctors, who said it opened the door to government control of the medical profession.

The plan, designed to provide medical care for everyone, is financed by single-person and family assessments of $12 and $24 a year and by general taxation.

The delegation saw Lloyd for 10 minutes and was told that the government would reply to the petition as soon as possible.

Space Chiefs Ask New Moon Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's space agency has called for two new types of moon ships.

One would shuttle between a lunar satellite and the moon's surface. The other would take two men directly from the earth to the moon and back.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked the aerospace industry Wednesday to send in proposals for development of the first vehicle. NASA Administrator James E. Webb said the agency hoped to be able to let contracts within three months.

Plans for the second vehicle would take longer to study, he said.

In other developments on the moon front: —NASA disclosed it has started a study in detail of designs for an unmanned vehicle to provide support for the crews that visit the moon.

—The space agency said it is looking for suitable areas for landing spacecraft returning to earth from the moon.

The shuttle or lunar excursion vehicle would be a glass-enclosed cockpit for two men. It would be lodged in the nose of a three-man Apollo spacecraft and would be sent on a 72-hour journey to the area of the moon by an advanced Saturn C5 rocket.

The Apollo, with the miniature craft in its nose, would go into orbit about 100 miles above the moon. Two of the three crew members would climb into the excursion capsule, detach it from the mother craft, and descend to about 50,000 feet above the moon for closer examination of the surface.

If landing prospects appeared unfavorable the capsule would return to the orbiting mother craft. If everything was all right, it would however directly over the moon's surface and then land.

After the men had explored the moon for two to four days, they would take off, hook up with the orbiting Apollo craft, and blast off for the return trip to the earth.

First Big Slash Effective Now

Senate Group Seeks Additional Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP)—With one fat tax cut going into effect today, senators have opened a drive to develop another.

In each case, the nation's businessmen were to be the main beneficiaries. Today's cut—a whopping $1.5 billion and the first since 1954—was designed by the Kennedy Administration to spur faster economic growth.

The Senate Finance Committee, meanwhile, was considering substitutes for the tax break President Kennedy wants to offer businesses that modernize.

The committee voted 10-7 Wednesday to approve in principle the incentive feature of Kennedy's tax revision bill. But then it voted a substantial modification that committee experts said would cut the tax break in half.

Today some members will seek to knock out the credit entirely and substitute other business benefits. Supporters of the administration, that they could retain the watered-down version in the legislation.

The committee also dealt the administration a severe setback by voting 10-5 to eliminate from the bill the proposal for withholding 20 per cent of all dividends and interest.

Kennedy had claimed the withholding system would bring in an estimated $650 million in annual revenues lost through failure of individuals to report. He had banked on the system as a means of recouping about half the revenue the government would lose if his tax credit plan became law.

Pending was a proposal by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to substitute a corporation tax cut for the investment credit.

Gore told a reporter his proposal would provide relief for all corporations, with the heaviest cuts for smaller ones. This, in his view, was preferable to the credit.

Corporations now pay at a 30 per cent rate on income up to $25,000, and 52 per cent above that amount. Under Gore's proposal, they would pay 25 per cent on income up to $25,000, 47 per cent on the next $475,000, and 52 per cent above $500,000.

Today's $1.5 billion tax cut ordered by Kennedy is one which will benefit many of the President's severest critics.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told a news conference the tax cut—which also will benefit professional people and farmers—should have a quick impact on the economy. He said many businesses have promised to use tax savings to increase their investments in the latest machinery and equipment. And he forecast an upturn in orders for these items in the next couple of months.

HOLLANDIA, Dutch New Guinea (AP)—Dutch authorities said today about 250 to 300 Indonesian troops are still at large in Netherlands New Guinea—wandering in the jungle without food, weapons or medicine.

These men are all that remain of about 1,000 Indonesians dropped in coastal areas earlier this year, the government claimed.

Group Buries 'Strange Gods': TV Set and Women's Shorts

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A church group has buried in a muddy grave the "strange gods" of this world, ranging from Sunday school quarterlies to a phonograph recording of "The Devil and the Deep Blue Sea."

Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments," read the Rev. Ed Taylor from Genesis.

The pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church read the passage Wednesday night after some 40 members of the church threw objects to the bottom of a pit where their new sanctuary is being built.

Taylor said a huge clock was dashed asunder in the pit to symbolize "that the new church will have no 'clockwatchers.'"

A television set and a rock 'n' roll record called "Ooba-Ooba" were tossed in, along with a copy of John Steinbeck's new novel, "The Winter of Our Discontent."

However, most of the literature buried was Sunday school quarterlies. The minister said he and his group object to religious material which uses the Revised Standard Version of the Bible for reference.

Some women threw in women's shorts and tiorador pants and several persons added packs of cigarettes. The minister said the ceremony was an expression of faith.

Rebel Algerian Chief Ready To Divide Nation

Ben Bella near Oran After Split with Moderate Ben Khedda

ALGIERS (AP)—Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was expected to stage a triumphal entrance into Oran today and establish himself as the power of western Algeria.

The leftist deputy premier, who split with Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda's moderate regime on the eve of Algerian independence, made his delayed return to Algeria Wednesday and received a hero's welcome.

Thousands of Moslems turned out to greet him as he journeyed from the Moroccan frontier to Tlemcen, 75 miles south of Oran, Algeria's second city.

His next stop was Oran, where thousands of his armed supporters already were in control. Then he planned to proceed to Algiers and a possible showdown with Ben Khedda over leadership of the fledgling Algerian nation.

In Algiers, Ben Khedda's regime was reported growing increasingly uneasy as Ben Bella demonstrated his hold on the Moslem masses on his journey through western Algeria. But Ben Bella struck a moderate pose.

Addressing a crowd of 6,000 Wednesday in the sports stadium at Tlemcen, Ben Bella made no direct mention of his rift with Ben Khedda. But he expressed hope that the new nation would solve its difficulties through the cooperation of the army, the people and the government.

Ben Bella spoke from a position of strength. He has the support of the 45,000-man liberation army now returning from exile in Morocco and Tunisia and of a great share of the former Moslem guerrilla units inside Algeria. And obviously he is the idol of western Algeria's Moslem civilians.

"Ben Bella broke with Ben Khedda on the announced issue of Ben Khedda's dismissal of the three top officers of the liberation army for allegedly planning a military dictatorship for Algeria. Underlying the rift, however, is Ben Bella's opposition to Ben Khedda's policy of close cooperation with France. Ben Bella advocates sweeping socialism in Algeria in an Arab vein.

WITH ALL the uproar around the Sheriff's office Tuesday concerning the suspected drowning, the department staff probably thought the roof was caving in. . . Last night it really did. A portion of plaster on the ceiling directly over Sheriff Spangler's desk fell to the floor.

Strike Looms For 51 U.S. Aero Plants

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The AFL-CIO United Auto Workers rejected a proposal by North American Aviation Co. for a 30-day extension Wednesday.

Announcement of the proposal came soon after a spokesman for the AFL-CIO International Association of Machinists said negotiations with Douglas Aircraft Co. had collapsed.

Both unions have set July 23 as a strike date against 51 major aircraft and missile plants across the country. About 125,000 aerospace workers would be affected.

A UAW official said North American had proposed extending the contract to Aug. 11, with a settlement retroactive to July 9. "We want a settlement, not a strike," said Leonard Woodcock, UAW vice president. "But in the days remaining before July 23, there are more than enough hours to work out solutions to all problems which remain on the bargaining table."

He said negotiations, so far had been "very nearly fruitless."

Premier Studies Call For Program Change

REGINA, Sask. (AP)—Premier Woodrow Lloyd and his cabinet are weighing a reply to a citizens rally petition for a new law to replace Saskatchewan's controversial medical care insurance plan.

But Lloyd said the rally Wednesday has not changed the Socialists provincial government's stand.

The demonstration brought several thousand persons from all parts of the province into the capital.

Committee organizers claimed a predicted 30,000 persons came into Regina for the rally. Police Chief A. G. Cookson estimated it at 15,000.

But Lloyd said it was no more than 3,000 and declared "the size of the crowd doesn't lend support to claims of overwhelming opposition to the government."

The placard-carrying demonstrators gathered in a picnic mood outside the provincial legislature buildings while a 12-man delegation from the keep-out-doctors sponsoring committee presented the petition to Lloyd and his aides.

The petition asked suspension of the medical care act that went into effect July 1 and precipitated the strike of doctors, who said it opened the door to government control of the medical profession.

The plan, designed to provide medical care for everyone, as financed by single-person and family assessments of $12 and $24 a year and by general taxation.

The delegation said Lloyd for 10 minutes and was told that the government would reply to the petition as soon as possible.

Then the delegation joined the demonstrators outside for two hours of speeches.

The keep-out-doctors committee sought suspension of the medical care act to allow the striking doctors to return to normal service. This would be followed by negotiations between the government and the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons to draft a medical care act acceptable to everybody.

France Paying U.S. Debt, but Buys Gold Too

WASHINGTON (AP)—France is paying off ahead of schedule $293.4 million of debt owed the United States and is purchasing $112.5 million of American gold.

The mixture of good and bad news was disclosed today by the Treasury in an exchange of correspondence between Secretary Douglas Dillon and French Finance Minister Giscard d'Estaing.

The gold purchase will mark the first significant reduction in the U.S. gold supply in about two months. It will reduce the Treasury's gold holdings to $16.3 billion — the lowest level in more than two decades.

According to the announcement, France will buy the gold "in order to realize a more customary relationship between gold and dollars in French international reserves."

As part of the prepayment of postwar debts, France will completely liquidate the remaining $209.7 million owed on loans granted under the Marshall Plan in addition, France will pay $3.7 million to cover installments due in 1970 and 1971 under the postwar loan granted in 1956 by the Export-Import Bank.

Ex-Governor, Wife Are Killed in Home

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP)—Former Gov. and Mrs. James T. Blair were found dead in their home west of Jefferson City today. It was believed they were killed during the night by escaping gas.

Their dog also was found dead in the house.

Sheriff Horace Debo said the Blairs apparently left the engine of their car running in the garage attached to the house and deadly carbon monoxide fumes were sucked through the air conditioner.

Space Chiefs Ask New Moon Ships

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's space agency has called for two new types of moon ships.

One would shuttle between a lunar satellite and the moon's surface. The other would take two men directly from the earth to the moon and back.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration asked the aero-space industry Wednesday to send in proposals for development of the first vehicle. NASA Administrator James E. Webb said the agency hoped to be able to let contracts within three months.

Plans for the second vehicle would take longer to study, he said.

In other developments on the moon front:

—NASA disclosed it has started a study in detail of designs for an unmanned vehicle to provide support for the crews that visit the moon.

—The space agency said it is looking for suitable areas for landing spacecraft returning to earth from the moon.

The shuttle or lunar excursion vehicle would be a glass-enclosed cockpit for two men. It would be lodged in the nose of a three-man Apollo spacecraft and would be sent on a 72-hour journey to the area of the moon by an advanced Saturn C5 rocket.

The Apollo, with the miniature craft in its nose, would go into orbit about 100 miles above the

Slayton Loses His Solo Space Flight Chance

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Donald K. (Deke) Slayton has lost his solo flight space wings because of heart trouble.

The 38-year-old Air Force major, a former jet test pilot, bowed reluctantly Wednesday to the prospect of ground duty in Project Mercury.

This will involve engineering and planning work on the Mercury, Gemini and Apollo projects and other programs of the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston.

James E. Webb, administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, said Slayton is not definitely ruled out of participation in the two-man Gemini and three-man Apollo flights that will follow the one-man Mercury experiments.

"We are not crossing every bridge in the future," Webb said.

The decision on Slayton virtually assures an Air Force colleague, Maj. Leroy Gordon Cooper Jr., of an early trip to space travel. Cooper, 35, well may be the next astronaut aloft after the forthcoming 6-orbit attempt of Navy Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. Schirra's flight is tentatively planned for early September and the Cooper mission might be the last on the schedule for 1962.

New Zealand Ousts 2 Soviet Diplomats

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP)—New Zealand expelled two Soviet diplomats today on charges of spying.

Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake told Parliament the Russians had sought security information by illicit measures. Both were members of the Soviet legation staff in this capital.

The Russians were identified as V. S. Andreev, a commercial counselor and second ranking official at the legation, and N. I. Shitykov, second secretary and cultural officer.

Given 48 hours Wednesday to leave the country, they packed their bags and set out for Moscow today.

First Big Slash Effective Now

Senate Group Seeks Additional Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — With one fat tax cut going into effect today, senators have opened a drive to develop another.

In each case, the nation's businessmen were to be the main beneficiaries. Today's cut — a whopping $15 billion and the first since 1954 — was designed by the Kennedy Administration to spur faster economic growth.

The Senate Finance Committee, meanwhile, was considering substitutes for the tax break President Kennedy wants to offer businesses that modernize.

The committee voted 10-7 Wednesday to approve in principle the incentive feature of Kennedy's tax revision bill. But then it voted a substantial modification that committee experts said would cut the tax break in half.

Today some members will seek to knock out the credit entirely and substitute other business benefits. Supporters of the administration, that they could retain the watered-down version in the legislation.

The committee also dealt the administration a severe setback by voting 10-5 to eliminate from the bill the proposal for withholding 20 per cent of all dividends and interest.

Kennedy had claimed the withholding system would bring in an estimated $650 million in annual revenues lost through failure of individuals to report. He had banked on the system as a means of recouping about half the revenue the government would lose if his tax credit plan became law.

Pending was a proposal by Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., to substitute a corporation tax cut for the investment credit.

Gore told a reporter his proposal would provide relief for all corporations, with the heaviest cuts for smaller ones. This, in his view, was preferable to the credit.

Corporations now pay at a 30 per cent rate on income up to $25,000, and 52 per cent above that amount. Under Gore's proposal, they would pay 25 per cent on income up to $25,000, 47 per cent on the next $475,000, and 52 per cent above $500,000.

Today's $1.5 billion tax cut ordered by Kennedy is one which will benefit many of the President's severest critics.

Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon told a news conference the tax cut—which also will benefit professional people and farmers—should have a quick impact on the economy. He said many businesses have promised to use tax savings to increase their investments in the latest machinery and equipment. And he forecast an upturn in orders for these items in the next couple of months.

Group Buries 'Strange Gods': TV Set and Women's Shorts

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP)—A church group has buried in a muddy grave the "strange gods" of this world, ranging from Sunday school quarterlies to a phonograph recording of "The Devil and the Deep Blue Sea."

"Then Jacob said unto his household, and to all that were with him, put away the strange gods that are among you, and be clean, and change your garments," read the Rev. Ed Taylor from Genesis.

The pastor of the Hillcrest Baptist Church read the passage Wednesday night after some 40 members of the church threw objects to the bottom of a pit where their new sanctuary is being built.

Taylor said a huge clock was dashed asunder in the pit to symbolize "that the new church will have no 'clockwatchers.'"

A television set and a rock 'n' roll record called "Ooba-Ooba-Ooba" were tossed in, along with a copy of John Steinbeck's new novel, "The Winter of Our Discontent."

However, most of the literature buried was Sunday school quarterlies. The minister said he and his group object to religious material which uses the Revised Standard Version of the Bible for reference.

Some women threw in women's shorts and tiorador pants and several persons added packs of cigarettes.

The minister said the ceremony was an expression of faith.

Peace Seen Near In Congress 'War'

WASHINGTON (AP)—A new exchange of communiques between the House and Senate Appropriations committees pointed today toward a possible quick truce in the prestige war between the two groups.

The controversy, revolving around procedural matters such as who should preside at joint meetings and who shall start the annual money bills, has put the government on emergency financial rations since the fiscal year started July 1.

Not a single annual money measure has gone to the President because of the wrangling that age.

Treasury which didn't need congressional approval, offers larger tax deductions to firms investing in never, more efficient facilities.

And larger deductions obviously will mean lower tax payments.

Initial reaction from business spokesmen and congressional leaders generally was favorable.

The sweeping overhaul of the tax depreciation system—the first in at least two decades—was designed specifically to meet business complaints that the old system was stunting economic progress.

Kennedy ordered a speed-up in the depreciation studies a month ago because he was anxious to produce evidence of his willingness to help business and of a sympathy for business problems.

Had there been no steel price crisis in April and no stock market collapse in May, the announcement probably wouldn't have been ready until late this month or early in August.

Steel will be one of the principal beneficiaries of the liberalization. Railroads and paper producers also will receive substantial benefits.

The estimated first-year revenue loss of $1.5 billion will be the largest since Congress revised the tax laws in 1954.

The depreciation overhaul probably means an end to any hope for a balanced budget in the 1963 fiscal year that began July 1. The revenue loss, by itself, will move the deficit to the $500 million surplus which Kennedy forecast in January.

However, Dillon said the government would quickly recoup at least part of the loss because liberalized depreciation will prompt job-creating business investments.

Kennedy said the result could be an increase of up to $6 billion in annual capital spending by business.

Stock Market Continues To Show Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Still riding on a string of favorable news developments, the stock market continued its rally into the fourth straight session in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Showing a fairly substantial gain, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.50 at 221.00, with industrials up 2.00, rails up .60, and utilities up 1.06.

Gains of fractions to a point or better were scattered through the list of key stocks while some of the volatile "growth" issues did better. IBM held a gain of more than half a dozen points.

As the session wore on, some stocks backed away from early gains and showed losses.

The Treasury's revision of depreciation rules, which the administration says will save business $1.5 billion in taxes the first year, was the latest news item to help the market.

The trimming of prices began as the Dow Jones industrial average once more approached the important 600 level, an up-to-date resistance area near which last week's rally halted.

Movie Camera Records Trio In Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland police appealed to the public today to introduce them to a trio of silent movie stars.

Pictures were taken by a hidden camera Wednesday of three gunmen who robbed the St. Clair Savings Association of $13,365, and shots from the film were reprinted in newspapers and shown on television.

Five years ago—in April 1957—a camera concealed in this same office shot film sequences of a $2,500 holdup and the pictures led to arrest of the robbers.

Many calls came into police Wednesday night, but none provided good leads, detectives said.

A large group of policemen watched the 2 1/2-minute strip of film and also received copies of still pictures made from it.

No customers were in the office when the gunmen herded three women tellers and a clerk to the side filed a brief case with cash.

and fled in a stolen car driven by a fourth man and found abandoned later a few blocks away.

Two of the tellers pushed silent alarm buttons that set the camera in motion. Although the pictures were a bit fuzzy, they included shots of all three holdup men who entered the bank.

Stock Market Continues To Show Rally

NEW YORK (AP)—Still riding on a string of favorable news developments, the stock market continued its rally into the fourth straight session in heavy trading early this afternoon.

Showing a fairly substantial gain, the Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.50 at 221.00, with industrials up 2.00, rails up .60, and utilities up 1.00.

Gains of fractions to a point or better were scattered through the list of key stocks while some of the volatile "growth" issues did better. IBM held a gain of more than half a dozen points.

As the session wore on, some stocks backed away from early gains and showed losses.

The Treasury's revision of depreciation rules, which the administration says will save business $1.5 billion in taxes the first year, was the latest news item to help the market.

The trimming of prices began as the Dow Jones industrial average once more approached the important 600 level, an up-le resistance area near which last week's rally halted.

Movie Camera Records Trio In Holdup

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland police appealed to the public today to introduce them to a trio of silent movie stars.

Pictures were taken by a hidden camera Wednesday of three gunmen who robbed the St. Clair Savings Association of $13,365, and shots from the film were reprinted in newspapers and shown on television.

Five years ago—in April 1957—a camera concealed in this same office shot film sequences of a $2,500 holdup and the pictures led to arrest of the robbers.

Many calls came into police Wednesday night, but none provided good leads, detectives said. A large group of policemen watched the 2½-minute strip of film and also received copies of still pictures made from it.

No customers were in the office when the gunmen herded three women tellers and a clerk to the side filled a brief case with cash, and fled in a stolen car driven by a fourth man and found abandoned later a few blocks away.

Two of the tellers pushed silent alarm buttons that set the camera in motion. Although the pictures were a bit fuzzy, they included shots of all three holdup men who entered the bank.

However, Dillon said the government would quickly recoup at least part of the loss because liberalized depreciation will prompt job-creating business investments.

First Big Slash

Treasury which didn't need congressional approval, offers larger tax deductions to firms investing in never, more efficient facilities. And larger deductions obviously will mean lower tax payments.

Initial reaction from business spokesmen and congressional leaders generally was favorable. The sweeping overhaul of the tax depreciation system—the first in at least two decades—was designed specifically to meet business complaints that the old system was stunting economic progress.

Kennedy ordered a speed-up in the depreciation studies a month ago because he was anxious to produce evidence of his willingness to help business and of a sympathy for business problems.

Had there been no steel price crisis in April and no stock market collapse in May, the announcement probably wouldn't have been ready until late this month or early in August.

Steel will be one of the principal beneficiaries of the liberalization. Railroads and paper producers also will receive substantial benefits.

The estimated first-year revenue loss of $1.5 billion will be the largest since Congress revised the tax laws in 1954.

The depreciation overhaul probably means an end to any hope for a balanced budget in the 1963 fiscal year that began July 1. The revenue loss, by itself, will more than wipe out the $500 million surplus which Kennedy forecast in January.

However, Dillon said the government would quickly recoup at least part of the loss because liberalized depreciation will prompt job-creating business investments.

Science at Work New Theory On Gravity Is Explored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Scientists and engineers report on gravity, Venus, and a system for talking to machines:
Gravity Theory

New studies substantiate a theory that a rotating body, such as the earth or sun, can generate gravity-like fields, a scientists reports.

Christened "spinetic" fields, they can in principle produce gravitational fields which, in turn, could be used to add to or subtract from the gravitational pull of the earth, says F. T. Fraser, a senior scientist at General Precision, Inc., Pleasantville, N.Y.

But don't look for this to produce antigravity devices to counteract the earth's gravity—the effects are too small.

The theory can qualitatively account for many effects which, so far, are explainable only through the highly complicated general theory of relativity of Einstein, Fraser adds.

While it is known that a light beam is bent when it passes near a star, there should also be a very small additional bending due to the rotation of the star, Fraser says.

The theory, he adds, can also show that even an ideal gyroscope always pointing in the direction in which it is initially set, should change its heading if transported through a gravitational field.

Venus Secrets
This summer, scientists hope two space probes will unveil some secrets of Venus, a sister planet hidden under a dense mantle of gas.

The probes will be aimed to fly close to Venus, and will be equipped to carry out a variety of experiments, says Robert Wyckoff of Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Astronautics magazine.

It is hoped the probes will radio back data on Venus' temperature, whether the planet has any magnetic fields or radiation belts, and the density of tiny meteorites between Earth and Venus. Closer to the sun than the Earth, Venus also offers an interesting chance to measure the "solar wind" or gusts of gases which apparently are shot out from the sun.

Machine Talk
Why not talk to a machine, giving it instructions, instead of pushing buttons or flipping levers to make it work?

Studying this idea, Dr. Harry W. Mergler of Case Institute of Technology developed a technique for turning human speech into numbers or digits which can be fed into a computer. The sound is turned into an electrical voltage.

This method might be used not only to give instructions to computers, but perhaps passenger elevators, machine tools, or automated industrial production lines, all obeying man's master voice.

Courthouse Moonshine
MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP) — Jackson County authorities had some fast explaining to do when a cache of well-aged bootleg whiskey was found in the basement of the county courthouse.

The liquor, discovered during a house cleaning, apparently had been seized during a prohibition-era raid.

The two bronze cannon that stand on the Common at Worcester, Mass., were cast from church bells at Macon, Ga., in 1864.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev sounds stale but stuck. But, since he's a jolly man with more needles than a dressmaker, he'll probably poke one in the West soon again just to see it jump.

This week in Moscow he talked more than two hours without saying anything new. Yet, just because he's Khrushchev, he made front pages all over America, which is getting pretty good mileage out of a reshake.

He sounds stuck on three points: Military spending, nuclear testing, and Berlin.

The military spending is using up money he'd like to put into the Russian economy but can't because, as he made clear, Russia is going to keep on increasing its armaments.

Last May the Soviet government boosted meat prices 30 per cent, butter prices 25 per cent to pay for new farm equipment and explained to the people this had to be done because the money could not come out of military spending.

(Although the American economy is humping a bit, Congress this year voted another $13 billion for missile purchases, and on Wednesday the Senate authorized almost another $4 billion for the space program.)

Khrushchev could save himself a lot of money by agreeing with the United States to disarmament. The trouble here is that the kind he wants the United States won't buy and the kind this country wants he won't touch.

He went through all this in his speech. He wants disarmament without the inspection system that the United States insists is necessary before it agrees to disarm, to prevent cheating.

In mid-June the 17-nation disarmament conference wound up three months of getting nowhere in a barrage of charges and countercharges but will cheerfully resume talks again next Monday without any more sign of agreement than it had before.

Nevertheless, Khrushchev admitted to feeling the economic pinch. He said, "We are by no means happy that we have to spend so much effort and resources on the production of modern weapons."

But, to justify it, he said the West is planning preventive war. And he frankly stated the Soviets will continue building up their nuclear stockpiles.

The Russians last fall suddenly announced an end to a voluntary ban on nuclear testing and began testing.

The reason may have been that they felt the West was getting ahead in the fine art of nuclear destruction and they couldn't afford to be outdone. In turn, the United States, not to be outdone either, resumed testing.

Without mentioning what Russia did, Khrushchev denounced the United States for what it did.

Last summer Khrushchev created a new crisis in Berlin, and it turned into an ugly one. He backed away from an explosion. And there hasn't been a settlement. Since this was a setback for him it's no wonder he keeps thinking about it.

In his speech he suggested the Western allies get their troops out of West Berlin and let them be replaced by troops from two Russian satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia, along with Norwegian and Danish or Dutch and Belgian troops.

By this arrangement, Communist troops would be allowed to get into West Berlin where they weren't allowed before. The thing wrong with this, the State Department said, was that the Russians had proposed it before and were turned down.

All in all, if Khrushchev didn't gain anything by the speech, he didn't lose anything either, which probably explains why he didn't mind making it since his policy for quite a while now has been simply marking time.

10-Year Film Marriage Ends

Janet Leigh Sheds
Mate, Tony Curtis

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The storybook marriage of Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis ended because "Tony didn't want to be married any longer."

Thus the shapely ash blonde testified Wednesday in Santa Monica Superior Court in winning an interlocutory decree from the Bronx-born actor after 10 years and 10 months of marriage.

Curtis, 37, did not contest the divorce. He is in Germany.

Miss Leigh retained composure in her brief time on the stand but sobbed uncontrollably when she got out of the courthouse and on a parking lot.

"Tony was extremely critical of me," Janet said, biting her lip. "He wouldn't like a dress and would order me to go back and change it."

"Then he told me he didn't want to be married any longer."

The 35-year-old actress' testimony lasted less than five minutes and Judge Orlando Rhodes intimated that it barely supported the charge of extreme mental cruelty.

The actress' lawyer then pressed Mrs. Jacqueline Gershwin, the corroborating witness, for specific details.

"Mr. Curtis said he was 'very happy' since the separation," she said. The witness added that she and her husband, one of Tony's agents, were at many dinner parties at the Curtis home.

"There were few at which Janet did not cry and become upset because of Curtis' criticisms," Mrs. Gershwin said.

The property settlement was unusual in that both parties retained their possessions as joint tenants in common without providing for physical division of the assets.

A lawyer explained this was due to the complex nature of the couple's holdings.

The couple has two daughters, Kelly, 6, and Jamie, 3. Janet got custody of them with Tony given reasonable visitation rights.

Merle Oberon Is Returning To Hollywood after 6 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Merle Oberon is making a screen return after an absence of six years—too many, it might be added. She remains one of the rare beauties of the movie world, after 30 years in films. The wide, high forehead and porcelain-like face match the portrait painted of her in the 1930s. The figure is slim as a girl's.

These observations were made at her Beverly Hills mansion, where she lives a portion of the year surrounded by works of art by old and new masters. She had just returned from her homes in Mexico City and Cuernavaca where she had made her film return.

The film is called "Of Love and Desire," and she made it with Steve Cochran and Curt Jergens. She plays a nymphomaniac.

That's right, the same Merle who was the romantic Cathy in "Wuthering Heights," George Sand in "A Song to Remember," Empress Josephine in "Desiree."

"Well, styles have changed in movies," she explained, "and you have to keep up with them. Our picture isn't lurid or in bad taste; it is the story of a woman with a problem: she likes men too much."

This was Merle's first film since her marriage to international financier Bruno Pagliai.

"Bruno has been very nice about it," she said. "He wants me to be happy, and he knows that acting is a part of me."

"Until now, it has been difficult for me to schedule anything. We spend a part of the year in Mexico, part here, part in Europe and a month or six weeks in New York. I didn't want to interfere with Bruno's work."

"But there are times when he works very hard, and I see him very little. That leaves me at home as housewife. I think I manage that job very well, but I would also like more of a challenge. So I may be doing more work from time to time."

How does Merle stay in such excellent trim?

"I work at it. I exercise in the pool every day. I don't drink or smoke—not that I deny myself those things; I don't enjoy them. I eat sensibly."

And, needless to say, she enjoys life.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Official Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather outlook:

A cold front over Michigan triggered a series of thunderstorms in Ohio before midnight Wednesday, and thunder continued to roll until early today.

Rainfall was variable. Columbus received a fourth of an inch, Sedalia half an inch and Dayton about seven-tenths of an inch.

Low temperatures today were mostly in the 60s.

More thundershowers are forecast this afternoon and tonight as the cold front moves into Ohio. Afternoon temperatures today will be mostly in the middle and upper 80s, and it will be rather humid.

It will be slightly cooler and less humid Friday as a dryer air mass pushes into Ohio on north-west winds.

Science at Work New Theory On Gravity Is Explored

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Scientists and engineers report on gravity, Venus, and a system for talking to machines: Gravity Theory

New studies substantiate a theory that a rotating body, such as the earth or sun, can generate gravity-like fields, a scientists reports

Christened "spinetic" fields, they can in principle produce gravitational fields which, in turn, could be used to add to or subtract from the gravitational pull of the earth, says F. T. Fraser, a senior scientist at General Precision, Inc., Pleasantville, N.Y.

But don't look for this to produce antigravity devices to counteract the earth's gravity—the effects are too small.

The theory can qualitatively account for many effects which, so far, are explainable only through the highly complicated general theory of relativity of Einstein, Fraser adds.

While it is known that a light beam is bent when it passes near a star, there should also be a very small additional bending due to the rotation of the star, Fraser says.

The theory, he adds, can also show that even an ideal gyroscope always pointing in the direction in which it is initially set, should change its heading if transported through a gravitational field.

Venus Secrets
This summer, scientists hope two space probes will unveil some secrets of Venus, a sister planet hidden under a dense mantle of gas.

The probes will be aimed to fly close to Venus, and will be equipped to carry out a variety of experiments, says Robert Wyckoff of Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Astronautics magazine.

It is hoped the probes will radio back data on Venus' temperature, whether the planet has any magnetic fields or radiation belts, and the density of tiny meteorites between Earth and Venus. Closer to the sun than the Earth, Venus also offers an interesting chance to measure the "solar wind" or gusts of gases which apparently are shot out from the sun.

Machine Talk
Why not talk to a machine, giving it instructions, instead of pushing buttons or flipping levers to make it work?

Studying this idea, Dr. Harry W. Mergler of Case Institute of Technology developed a technique for turning human speech into numbers or digits which can be fed into a computer. The sound is turned into an electrical voltage.

This method might be used not only to give instructions to computers, but perhaps passenger elevators, machine tools, or automated industrial production lines, all obeying man's master voice.

Courthouse Moonshine
MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP) — Jackson County authorities had some fast explaining to do when a cache of well-aged bootleg whiskey was found in the basement of the county courthouse.

The liquor, discovered during a house cleaning, apparently had been seized during a prohibition-era raid.

The two bronze cannon that stand on the Common at Worcester, Mass., were cast from church bells at Macon, Ga., in 1864.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Premier Khrushchev sounds stale but stuck. But, since he's a jolly man with more needles than a dressmaker, he'll probably poke one in the West soon again just to see it jump.

This week in Moscow he talked more than two hours without saying anything new. Yet, just because he's Khrushchev, he made front pages all over America, which is getting pretty good mileage out of a rehash.

He sounds stuck on three points: Military spending, nuclear testing, and Berlin.

The military spending is using up money he'd like to put into the Russian economy but can't because, as he made clear, Russia is going to keep on increasing its armaments.

Last May the Soviet government boosted meat prices 30 per cent, butter prices 25 per cent to pay for new farm equipment and explained to the people this had to be done because the money could not come out of military spending.

(Although the American economy is bumbling a bit, Congress this year voted another $13 billion for missile purchases, and on Wednesday the Senate authorized almost another $4 billion for the space program.)

Khrushchev could save himself a lot of money by agreeing with the United States to disarmament. The trouble here is that the kind he wants the United States won't buy and the kind this country wants he won't touch.

He went through all this in his speech. He wants disarmament without the inspection system that the United States insists is necessary before it agrees to disarm, to prevent cheating.

In mid-June the 17-nation disarmament conference wound up three months of getting nowhere in a barrage of charges and countercharges but will cheerfully resume talks again next Monday without any more sign of agreement than it had before.

Nevertheless, Khrushchev admitted to feeling the economic pinch. He said, "We are by no means happy that we have to spend so much effort and resources on the production of modern weapons."

But, to justify it, he said the West is planning preventive war. And he frankly stated the Soviets will continue building up their nuclear stockpiles.

The Russians last fall suddenly announced an end to a voluntary ban on nuclear testing and began testing.

The reason may have been that they felt the West was getting ahead in the fine art of nuclear destruction and they couldn't afford to be outdone. In turn, the United States, not to be outdone either, resumed testing.

Without mentioning what Russia did, Khrushchev denounced the United States for what it did.

Last summer Khrushchev created a new crisis in Berlin, and it turned into an ugly one. He backed away from an explosion. And there hasn't been a settlement. Since this was a setback for him it's no wonder he keeps thinking about it.

In his speech he suggested the Western allies get their troops out of West Berlin and let them be replaced by troops from two Russian satellites, Poland and Czechoslovakia, along with Norwegian and Danish or Dutch and Belgian troops.

By this arrangement, Communist troops would be allowed to get into West Berlin where they were not allowed before. The thing wrong with this, the State Department said, was that the Russians had proposed it before and were turned down.

All in all, if Khrushchev didn't gain anything by the speech, he didn't lose anything either, which probably explains why he didn't mind making it since his policy for quite a while now has been simply marking time.

10-Year Film Marriage Ends

Janet Leigh Sheds
Mate, Tony Curtis

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The storybook marriage of Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis ended because "Tony didn't want to be married any longer."

Thus the shapely ash blonde testified Wednesday in Santa Monica Superior Court in winning an interlocutory decree from the Bronx-born actor after 10 years and 10 months of marriage.

Curtis, 37, did not contest the divorce. He is in Germany. Miss Leigh retained composure in her brief time on the stand but sobbed uncontrollably when she got out of the courthouse and on a parking lot.

"Tony was extremely critical of me," Janet said, biting her lip. "He wouldn't like a dress and would order me to go back and change it."

"Then he told me he didn't want to be married any longer."

The 35-year-old actress' testimony lasted less than five minutes and Judge Orlando Rhodes intimated that it barely supported the charge of extreme mental cruelty.

The actress' lawyer then pressed Mrs. Jacqueline Gershwin, the corroborating witness, for specific details.

"Mr. Curtis said he was 'very happy' since the separation," she said. The witness added that she and her husband, one of Tony's agents, were at many dinner parties at the Curtis home.

"There were few at which Janet did not cry and become upset because of Curtis' criticisms," Mrs. Gershwin said.

The property settlement was unusual in that both parties retained their possessions as joint tenants in common without providing for physical division of the assets.

A lawyer explained this was due to the complex nature of the couple's holdings.

The couple has two daughters, Kelly, 6, and Jamie, 3. Janet got custody of them with Tony given reasonable visitation rights.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Merle Oberon is making a screen return after an absence of six years—too many, it might be added. She remains one of the rare beauties of the movie world, after 30 years in films. The wide, high forehead and porcelain-like face match the portrait painted of her in the 1930s. The figure is slim as a girl's.

Summer Vacation Time

From recreational spots, North and South, East and West, come the same reports: Booked solid until fall, or nearly so. Vacation time finds many ready to start and no place to go. Those who were forehanded and made reservations months ago are the fortunate ones. For many persons the long-anticipated vacation threatens to be a disappointing affair at best. Vacations are regarded as essential by the average human. Days or weeks away from the job will pay dividends, although they may be marked by stress of travel

Inside You and Yours

By BURTON H. FERN, M. D.

Two weeks a year add years to your life!

During that annual vacation, exercise can tone up your body. New interests and scenery tone up your mind. A pleasure-packed two weeks! Don't forget to take the right clothing.

Everyone needs a rain-coat. Fisherman and tennis players won't need party dresses. Hip boots don't belong on the dance floor. High heels can turn any hike into foot-squeezed torture.

Loose, light-colored clothing helps keep you cool. Heat waves bounce off. The loose fit insulates you.

Take a lesson from turbaned tropical natives. Wear a hat or head-covering to protect against the broiling sun.

Don't forget a first aid kit and any special medicine you take regularly, like insulin or vitamin B-12. Take along an extra pair of eyeglasses—or at least a prescription for lenses in case yours break.

Locate the nearest doctor who can help in an emergency.

Carry an identification card or locket that tells about any special medical problem—just in case. You don't want penicillin shots triggering an old allergy because some strange doctor didn't know.

Keep your regular shots up to date. If you haven't been vaccinated for three years, the U. S. border becomes a one-way turnstile. You can't get back in.

Sweets, starches, fish and meats don't belong in picnic baskets or camping-trip knapsacks. Without dry ice, these foods quickly spoil. Load up with canned foods which you open just before serving.

In foreign countries, big city water is usually safe. But watch out in smaller towns. When in doubt,

There's been quite an uproar over the Supreme Court decision against prayer in public schools. Apparently the court offended a lot of altar egos.

Prayer cannot be stricken entirely from the curriculum. For instance, it often is used as a substitute for homework.

The recent Governors Conference adopted a resolution on aid to education. Apparently the governors feel that as long as prayer is banned, money from Washington is the next best thing.

Moslems pray five times a day. It still doesn't keep human nature out of their politics.

Ike says that new National Republican Citizens Committee is "crucial to the Republican Party's resurgence." That means don't just stand there, undo something.

Ike says the Citizens Committee will promote progressive programs "which are the core of Republicanism." Senator Goldwater wants to let the core alone and stick to the appealing.

Summer Vacation Time

From recreational spots, North and South, East and West, come the same reports: Booked solid until fall, or nearly so.

Vacation time finds many ready to start and no place to go. Those who were forehanded and made reservations months ago are the fortunate ones. For many persons the long-anticipated vacation threatens to be a disappointing affair at best.

Vacations are regarded as essential by the average human. Days or weeks away from the job will pay dividends, although they may be marked by stress of travel and unhappy experiences. Vacation gives a taste of free life, a change in the daily routine which may not actually be more comfortable, but is different. It brings new scenes, new fares. If it takes the housewife from her kitchen it serves to give her greater appreciation of her own home when she returns.

Vacation offers emancipation from the daily grind, a visit to new places to learn how the other half lives. But a permanent vacation would be unthinkable.

In Defense of Mutts

Today we speak out in defense of collies, beagles, wire-haired terriers, airedales, Boston bulls, Labradors, German shepherds, Dalmatians, setters, chows, pugs, coach dogs, and just plain mutts. These dogs are annoyed, jealous and frustrated because they seldom if ever get their pictures in the papers anymore.

This may sound stupid, but it isn't. If you see those conceited camera dogs — the basset hound, the poodle, the chihuahua and the cocker spaniel — that's what you see.

There's nothing wrong with a basset hound that a good face-lifting job couldn't improve. And we have nothing in particular against those hammy poodles, those emaciated chihuahuas, and those panhandling spaniels. We'd just like to see some other breeds get some publicity for a change.

We could have criticized the St. Bernard, too, and we will, when we give up mountain climbing.

'Good Morning'

"Good morning" is often an insincere expression which most of us use at least five days a week — the other two days we hope that our first waking words will be "good afternoon."

"Good morning" is an expression which should only be used when you actually believe that it is a fine morning and that all's right with your private world. But it should never be used when inwardly you are cursing your lot, or when your pounding head reminds you of the good evening you thought you had.

"Good morning" should always be accompanied by a cheery, sincere smile, so if you cannot smile when you say it—well, don't say it.

We feel better already, now that we've got that off our chest.

Oh, for the Life of a Cat!

NEW YORK (AP)—When the time for my next reincarnation rolls around, I have already decided what I want to be.

I want to be reborn a cat—a big fat smug, selfish and self-satisfied cat.

Being a husband in this world isn't a bad life in its way. The members of your family usually allow you a favorite chair to sit in. You are permitted to pick at least one television show a week—provided everyone else happens to like that one, too. And on your birthdays and Father's Day you always get a necktie and a card that says something like, "We're awful glad that you're our Dad."

But when you get right down to it, a cat lives a richer, carefree life. With a cat it's Christmas all year 'round.

A cat has it made from birth. It never has to soil its dainty paws with labor. Its brow is never wet with honest sweat.

Unlike a dog, it doesn't make an effort to please the human serfs that serve it. Unlike a dog, it doesn't feel guilty if it is caught doing wrong. A cat feels it is always in the right. It never gets wrinkles worrying about anybody or anything else in the wide, wide universe.

There are times when I look at our cat, Lady Dottie, with utter envy. She will soon be four years old and, so far as I know, never in her entire life has done anything except exactly what she chose to.

She sleeps when she wants to, prowls the house when she wants to, plays when she wants to—not when you would like her to.

Lady Dottie has my wife, Frances, absolutely buffaloed. On her plate she doesn't like, Lady Dottie sniffs at it, stalks away on feet of plush, and goes on a hunger strike.

In this contest of feminine wills my wife always loses. After 12 hours she caves in and gives our cat what she wants—warm chopped up bits of beef kidney or liver.

In the morning Lady Dottie likes to stroll out in the hall and watch me step into the elevator as I leave for work.

"That shows she misses you," my wife says.

But I know better. There is a laughing look on Lady Dottie's face that clearly says:

"So long, slave. Go earn me a living."

Yes, if I come back for a second life, I want to return as a cat like Lady Dottie. My only trouble will be learning to like chopped beef kidney—but then every existence has some small problem.

Police Raid Evidence Ruled To Be Invalid

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Common Pleas Court Judge L. A. Lombardy ruled today that evidence seized in a gambling raid last fall must be returned to the homeowner because of an invalid search warrant and an improperly conducted search. Summit County Sheriff Robert Campbell, aided by his deputies and the city vice squad, last Sept. 12 raided the home of Walter Vuin in Bath Township. Police seized dice and numbers slips from what they described as a $4,000 yearly business.

A charge of possession of lottery slips has been pending in common probate court against Vuin since that raid. His attorney attacked the search procedure and a portion of the search warrant in court.

Judge Lombardy ruled the search warrant was invalid because it lacked the signature of a judge, and the search was made illegally because police failed to properly identify themselves after they broke down a house door that was slammed in their face.

The second Morrill Act, in 1890, authorized $25,000 annual endowment for each land-grant college.

There's been quite an uproar over the Supreme Court decision against prayer in public schools. Apparently the court offended a lot of altar egos.

Prayer cannot be stricken entirely from the curriculum. For instance, it often is used as a substitute for homework.

The recent Governors Conference adopted a resolution on aid to education. Apparently the governors feel that as long as prayer is banned, money from Washington is the next best thing.

Moslems pray five times a day. It still doesn't keep human nature out of their politics.

Ike says that new National Republican Citizens Committee is "crucial to the Republican Party's resurgence." That means don't just stand there, undo something.

Ike says the Citizens Committee will promote progressive programs "which are the core of Republicanism." Senator Goldwater wants to let the core alone and stick to the appealing.

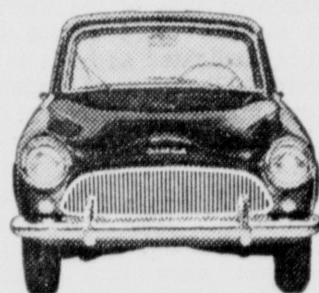

One should never stifle a yawn, the article continues. Not even when the boss is looking?

profit. It also should help them battle foreign competitors who have better equipped plants.

Industry spokesmen may question whether the new Treasury rules are adequate to do the whole job they want. But the easier terms should help.

The immediate result of letting corporations deduct more for depreciation of their equipment, the government says, will be a $1.25 billion tax relief.

The longer aim is to encourage American industry to further modernization—to catch up in a field in which it once led the world.

In recent years its rate of replacement of old machinery has trailed that of industries in Western Europe and Japan. And this has been one of the reasons these nations have been giving American producers stiffer competition in world markets. Depreciation rules and other tax laws in other countries have mostly been more favorable to such updating of equipment than in the United States.

Some companies say they have been waiting to study the new rules, promised for some time now, before placing new orders. Machine tool makers, builders of plants, and others who supply business expansion are hoping that the new rules will spur a rise in orders. The Administration says this could help the entire economy, and particularly its rate of growth.

A corporation can finance new equipment in four ways: It can sell more stock; it can borrow money; it can retain profits that otherwise would be paid to stockholders as dividends; it can use depreciation funds. Usually it uses more than one of these means.

Since funds set aside for depreciation of old equipment are deducted from pre-tax earnings, the tax collectors have rules covering them.

The old rule in force since 1942 covered some 5,000 types of equipment, ranging from delivery trucks to blast furnaces. The life of such equipment varies, so that depreciation is spread over a varying number of years. But the average life expectancy in the Treasury rules was just under 20 years.

Businessmen say this was unfair, because machinery grows obsolete much faster than that today, and also the amounts they could deduct wouldn't cover new machinery that costs so much more than a few years back.

The new schedules are aimed at cutting the classifications sharply, reducing the life expectancy of most equipment, and setting up general standards in relation to the purchase price of all depre-

Elliot Home and Garden Is Well Planned Beauty

ROOM FOR VEGETABLES — When Dallas Elliot moved out to the new Jefferson Addition he purchased a lot and a half. So now he has a full acre to garden. This includes a thriving vegetable patch.

By ELIZABETH JONES
Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Elliot who now live in the new Jefferson addition are gardeners from away back.

But just because they live in a new California flat in a new addition does not mean that they have a bare lawn.

Although they have been in their present location only two years come August their acre lot is beautifully landscaped.

The Elliots planned their home. (Elliot himself is a builder and contractor). They also planned their landscaping. And they planned it wisely.

MUCH of the garden can be enjoyed from indoors as well as outdoors.

To insure privacy for themselves they planted 86 Lombardy poplars on two sides of their lot. These young trees have grown amazingly and already form a wall of green.

Interplanted with the poplars are rose of Sharon bushes. The Elliots figure that when the short lived poplars are gone the shrubs will be a hedge of green.

In front of the house in full view of the livingroom picture window is the Elliot rose garden. Mrs. Elliot says they lost the labels some way or other so she cannot identify them. The roses (with or without names) are beautiful and well grown.

The rose garden was in full bloom when I saw it from the livingroom. In the distance was the DuPont plant forming a sort of industrial skyline.

From the screened side porch one may see the little shrine in which is a beautiful madonna. The shrine has for its background the row of Lombardy poplars and rose of Sharon shrubs.

THE ELLIOT vegetable garden will cause any gardener to be envious. This is Dallas Elliot's domain. And when I saw it, the vegetables were thriving. And the weeds were not.

Vegetables included sweetcorn, potatoes, tomatoes, lima beans, green beans, Bermuda onions, radishes — well just everything in the vegetable line.

There was a strawberry patch. There were grape vines as well as blackberries and raspberries.

The Elliot fruit trees were young but some are already bearing fruit. They have apple, apricot, peach, pear and cherry.

Mrs. Elliot has most of her flowers against the house or close to the fence. Blooming now are her zinnias and glads. Mrs. Elliot says she planted everything quite early.

Also blooming are the Chinese forgetmenots, lilies, phlox and marigolds.

PERHAPS the most amusing member of the Elliot household is Ching, the ten year old chow dog. Ching has his own back porch, a screened-in porch, which boasts a door within a door that Ching can open himself. Ching also has his own yard and its a big one. Mrs. Elliot has carefully planted Ching's fence with ornamental bean vines which are not only beautiful but provide Ching with shade.

The Elliots use their garage as a barbecue patio. It makes a spacious airy place for outdoor dining.

Mrs. Elliot is enthusiastic about her pink and brown California flattop home. And when you see the house and the well planned beautifully groomed gardens you will know just how she feels.

Nothing like a new garden for folks that are old hands at gardening!

Over 400 daylily varieties are now included in the collection which was established with the cooperation of the Ohio Hemerocallis Society. Many of the new and outstanding varieties are featured in the gardens, along with older types of merit.

All are labeled so bring along a pencil and paper to take notes on varieties that you will want to try in your own garden another year.

Concurrent with the daylily bloom will be the riotous array of color created by the annuals and lilies.

Another Nuclear Shot Fired in Pacific Air

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has announced firing of another airplane-dropped nuclear test device in the skies over the Pacific.

Tuesday's blast, the 26th announced by the government since the series began last April 25, was described as in the intermediate range, meaning its blast force was equivalent to 20,000 to 1 million tons of TNT. Detonation was in the vicinity of Christmas Island.

Gave Fire Alarm

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Eddie Lee Maista, 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Manista of Phoenix, wandered out of his bedroom shortly after he was ordered to take a nap.

When his mother asked why he wasn't in bed, Eddie answered, "Can't sleep for that smoke."

Mrs. Manista found a fire had started in a pile of clothes. The blaze was extinguished before it could spread to other rooms.

His wife, Patti, had a hand in design, of course. Jay is the son of Mrs. Herman M. Porter and has been in the service 16 years.

Now is the time to watch for bag worms on evergreens. Watch for slight browning of tips of the evergreens, or for small bits of evergreen that seem to wiggle as the tiny worms move about with bits of foliage attached to them. Spray with 4 1/2 level tablespoons of arsenate of lead to a gallon of water.

If you note mimosa web worms on your locust trees, spray now with 2 1/2 level tablespoons of arsenate of lead. Arsenate of lead is a stomach poison that kills chewing insects. These hot dry days, your evergreens will benefit from a strong syringing with plain water every day or two and it will also discourage red spider, which likes it hot and dry.

If you are trying to carry over a poinsettia plant you will probably not get it to bloom again, unless you dried it off in February. If you did rest it, then it should have been set outdoors and the shoots cut back to avoid too large a plant to bring back indoors in late August before the nights get too cool, and you can watch the blooms develop at holiday time. Do not pinch back after the first of August.

Most homes have some shady spots where flowers are desired but because of lack of sunlight, most annuals do not do well. Plan to use some of the various colors of sultana, sometimes called periwinkles and impatiens. Multi-flora begonias do well in such locations and if you want perennial, dark green foliage with flowers in the spring, then plant clumps of vinca minor (myrtle).

If you are growing some of the Harvest Giant mums and want large football type flowers, after you have three or four good branches, keep the side shoots pinched out and each stem disbudded except the terminal bud and when the flowers get near maturity, you may need to stake each bloom to support the huge flowers.

No many insects attack chrysanthemums, but an occasional dose of Malathion will discourage most pests and for aphids, use Black Leaf 40 (nicotine-sulphate).

For winter protection of your mum plants, as soon as the ground is frozen, cut the tops back to three or four inches and scatter three or four inches of straw or excelsior around the plants.

Hints Given For Mum Care

By BOB BREHMER

If you have divided your outdoor chrysanthemums, or have bought new small plants, you will be able to keep the plants short and will have many more blooms, if you will pinch back each succession of new shoots when they get about four to five inches long.

If your soil is predominately clay, your plants of all kinds will grow better if you work in some peat moss on the surface of the soil and this will help hold the moisture too.

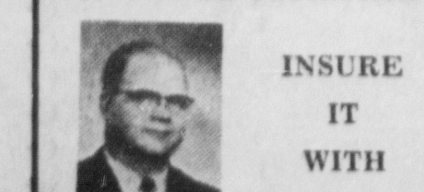

If you follow the pinch back procedure outlined above, do not pinch after the end of July for the buds will be forming then.

If you are growing some of the Harvest Giant mums and want large football type flowers, after you have three or four good branches, keep the side shoots pinched out and each stem disbudded except the terminal bud and when the flowers get near maturity, you may need to stake each bloom to support the huge flowers.

Annual Lily Show To Be At Kingwood

Show Open to Public
From 1 to 8 p.m.
Entries Close 11 a.m.

The Ohio Hemerocallis Society in cooperation with the American Hemerocallis Society is holding its annual Daylily Show at Kingwood Center, Mansfield, Ohio, Saturday, July 14th. All gardeners are invited to enter blooms. Entries close at 11:00 A. M. E.S.T. and the show will be open to the public from 1:00 to 8:00 P.M. The show offers the opportunity for all gardeners to view the new standard of excellence which daylilies offer.

Easy to grow daylilies have come into greater garden prominence in recent years, not only because of their extremely tough and persistent qualities in the garden, but also because of the wonderful range of colors and improved flowering qualities which both amateur and commercial breeders have achieved in many new introductions.

The Kingwood show is divided into three major divisions: horticultural, educational non competitive exhibits, and artistic arrangements.

In the horticulture division there are sections for registered introduced varieties, registered un-introduced varieties, seedlings, a special section for last years top rated variety, Frances Fay, and one for three stalks of any new un-introduced variety. The non competitive educational exhibits will be of particular interest to exhibitors and viewers alike.

THE OHIO Hemerocallis Society Annual Meeting and a daylily symposium will be held at 3:00 P.M. on Saturday afternoon at Kingwood Hall.

The daylily (or Hemerocallis) collection on the beautifully landscaped grounds of Kingwood Center will be in excellent condition for exhibitors and visitors attending the show.

Over 400 daylily varieties are now included in the collection which was established with the cooperation of the Ohio Hemerocallis Society. Many of the new and outstanding varieties are featured in the gardens, along with older types of merit.

All are labeled so bring along a pencil and paper to take notes on varieties that you will want to try in your own garden another year.

Concurrent with the daylily bloom will be the glorious array of color created by the annuals and lilies.

Another Nuclear Shot Fired in Pacific Air

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has announced firing of another airplane-dropped nuclear test device in the skies over the Pacific.

Tuesday's blast, the 26th announced by the government since the series began last April 25, was described as in the intermediate range, meaning its blast force was equivalent to 20,000 to 1 million tons of TNT. Detonation was in the vicinity of Christmas Island.

When his mother asked why he wasn't in bed, Eddie answered, "Can't sleep for that smoke."

Mrs. Manista found a fire had started in a pile of clothes. The blaze was extinguished before it could spread to other rooms.

His wife, Patti, had a hand in design, of course. Jay is the son of Mrs. Herman M. Porter and has been in the service 16 years.

Garden Gossip

Mrs. Clyde Michel and Mrs. Herman M. Porter of Monrovia Garden Club recently visited Mrs. Ray (Hattie) Smith in Chillicothe. Mrs. Smith was regional director of Region Nine for several years. She is confined to her wheel chair but still arranges flowers and does ceramic painting. What's more she still greets visitors with a cheery smile.

The garden wedding in Kingston was very lovely. It seemed that the weather man was only foolin' when he predicted rain.

Ewing Giffen, the bridegroom looked very handsome, the bride enchanting and the father of the bride, Loring Hill, looked as though a staff of gardeners had done all the work in the garden. He was even sending wedding cake to people who hadn't been able to attend.

Loring Hill and I were arguing as to who had it hardest, the fellow who was getting his garden ready for a wedding or the garden editor who is getting the yard in shape for the garden club picnic.

I claim the garden editor who is fighting a losing battle with the weeds.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pryor, Seyfert Ave., are giving their stump the old salt peter treatment. This is to bore holes in the stump and fill the holes with salt peter. They are going to report to the garden editor as to whether or not this works.

The only other thing I know to do with a stump is to plant morning glories and let the vines hide it.

The Gerald Wiggins pond had to be drained on account of muskrats. The varmints drilled so many holes around the pond and did so much tunneling that the Wiggins could not mow the grass in the vicinity of the pond.

Frank Stump, their neighbor, trapped the muskrats. But the population increased faster than Stump could trap.

Marvin Steeley takes the drought in a very philosophical way. If your lawn dries out and gets brown don't worry. He says it will green-up again after the first good rain.

This is just what has happened at the Steeleys.

Sheriff Walton Spangler has a most beautiful planting of flowers between the driveway and the jailhouse. He has red, white and blue petunias plus dwarf blue ageratum.

The refreshment table at the Blanton - Smallwood wedding was particularly pretty. The wedding cake was encircled with pink rose buds and dainty foliage.

We were asking about the foliage and Mrs. Bill Cook said it was from the garden of the M. E. Nogles on W. Union Street. Bill incidentally did the decorating.

I think the plant was thalictrum or meadow rue. This has been growing in the Noggle garden for these many years.

Suddenly I thought of the many festivities down through the years that had been the lovelier for flowers from the Noggle garden.

I expect this is true of many dedicated gardeners.

Thalictrum is rare in Circleville gardens. Actually it is more of a foliage plant than anything else although it does have attractive little lavender flowers.

Mrs. Harry Welch at 552 E. Franklin St. has this plant growing in her garden.

It's hollyhock season. Few gardens boast hollyhocks these days. They are subject to rust and that is perhaps the reason for the decline in popularity.

The Herman Davis planting of zinnias really felt the lack of rain. This planting is across the road from the house and everybody looks forward to seeing the Davis's display of roadside zinnias. The rain this last week saved the day.

Ruth Smyers, Route 1, Kingston, is fond of gloxinias. She sent me a blossom of a deep red velvet texture. According to Ruth these flowers keep well in water.

Ruth says that gloxinias may be propagated by burying a leaf in soil.

Mrs. Bishop Given reports that she has spotted a yellow breasted vireo in her garden. She has had red-eye vireos before but never the yellow breasted to her knowledge.

She identifies birds by their song. This seems very clever to me but Mrs. Given laughed and assured me that almost all bird watchers identify them this way.

Georgia Hott, Ashville, is well pleased with her cutting garden this year. The soil was gravelly and has never grown flowers too well. This year she had the gravel replaced with top soil.

Pauline Schiff has a collection of tree peonies near her house. She even had a yellow one, which I believe she said expired.

Mrs. Ada Heffner, E. Franklin Street, has a mahonia plant the like of which I have never seen. It is covered with clusters of blue fruit.

As I recall the mahonia this spring was unusually full of blossoms. I hope everybody with mahonia has as lovely fruit as Mrs. Heffner.

Mrs. Harry Kern is chairman of the Pickaway County Fair Flower Show again this year. But this is not interfering with the thesis she is writing for her degree at Ohio University.

Mrs. Kern and her committee have dreamed up an excellent schedule for interpretative arrangements. The theme is "This Is the Year" and has to do with the nation's accomplishment in regard to the space program.

Mrs. Kern is most interested in the organizational project for the flower show this year. It is to be miniature gardens and the fact is the space allotted will be a six foot square.

Organizations interested in entering a garden are to register their intentions by July 20th.

Mrs. Kern says she is mighty scared clubs will put off registering. It is very important that they do so because of space allotments. Don't forget! By the 20th of July.

Just checked with Bill Cook and the miniature gardens are not to be real miniatures but portions or corners of gardens after the manner of the state fair.

Bill says the evergreens in front of the 4-H building were the gift of the Monrovia Garden Club.

Marigold Hybrids Modern Miracles

MARIGOLDS AND GIRL — Pictured here is a young lady by the name of Susan Learned with new hybrid marigolds named for the 50th state, Hawaii. The flowers have a delicate odor. Incidentally marigolds planted now will bloom at Pumpkin Show time.

Giant Hybrid Climax Marigolds, the culmination of years of selection and breeding, are a fitting reward for the experimentation and hybridizing done to produce them.

They highlight a class of flowers that in recent years has been steadily increasing in popularity until today the American Marigold could well be nominated as the home gardeners' favorite annual flower.

The reasons are not hard to find. In this processed, spoonfed civilization of ours gardeners have come to expect the maximum results with the minimum of effort. The American Marigold fits into this aspect of modern day living. Nature herself having done much of the processing by evolving a flower that has remarkable freedom from disease and the ravages of insect pests, is easy to grow, and does well in every State in the Union.

FROM this basis plant breeders have developed the American Marigold to embrace a whole list of varieties, varying in height, habit, and flower form, and with an extended color range that goes from near-white, through cream, primrose, yellow and gold to glowing orange. Introductions of recent years include varieties virtually free of the odor that has been associated with Marigolds. One of the outstanding new Marigolds, "Hawaii", named in honor of our 50th State, has rich orange flowers with a delicate honey scent and foliage that is absolutely odorless. We may expect a whole range of varieties with completely odorless foliage within a few years.

given the geraniums that brighten the planting in front of the coliseum.

Job Picture Unchanged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's unemployment picture remained relatively unchanged last week, the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported today.

Young was co-author with Charles G. Dawes of the "Dawes Plan"—a formula for establishing reparations to be paid by Germany after World War I.

Later he played a major role in developing a plan for German fiscal rehabilitation. This became known as the "Young Plan" in tribute to his diplomacy and leadership.

Young was born on a farm at Van Hornesville, N.Y., on Oct. 27, 1874, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith Young.

Young attended a one-room red schoolhouse. In later years he financed a $500,000 school for children of the area.

He entered St. Lawrence University at Canton, N.Y., on $1,000 which his father had obtained by mortgaging the farm.

Young was graduated at the age of 20 in 1894 and then finished a three-year law course at Boston University in two years.

He began the practice of law in Boston and became a partner in the firm of Tyler & Young.

His law work placed him in contact with the engineering firm of Stone & Webster. This gave him an intimate knowledge of electrical development. His ability attracted the attention of General Electric.

Young joined General Electric as a member of its legal department and became its board chairman in 1922. He held that post until his retirement in 1939.

Relieve Granted Slayer of Grocer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle granted a 30-day reprieve yesterday to Donald L. Reinbolt who was scheduled to die in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair Friday for the slaying of a Columbus grocer.

This is the second stay DiSalle has granted Reinbolt. The first was granted to give the Pardon and Parole Commission a chance to study the case, but it was unable to complete its review in the allotted time.

Reinbolt, 28, was convicted of first-degree murder in the robbery-slaying of 69-year-old Edgar L. Weaver, last Aug. 28.

Here Today . . . LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Fame has been fleeting for Leonard Walker, who served six years as U. S. district attorney.

On a visit to federal court, where he was the prosecutor, Walker was stopped by a deputy marshal until a thorough check could be made of his identity.

Coffee, sisal, diamonds and minerals are among the chief exports of Angola.

Owen D. Young Dies at Age 87

ST. AUGUSTINE, Fla. (AP) — Owen D. Young, industrialist and monetary expert, dies Wednesday. He was 87.

The founder of Radio Corp. of America, he served 17 years and chairman of the board of General Electric Co.

Young was co-author with Charles G. Dawes of the "Dawes Plan"—a formula for establishing reparations to be paid by Germany after World War I.

Later he played a major role in developing a plan for German fiscal rehabilitation. This became known as the "Young Plan" in tribute to his diplomacy and leadership.

Young was born on a farm at Van Hornesville, N.Y., on Oct. 27, 1874, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smith Young.

Young attended a one-room red schoolhouse. In later years he financed a $500,000 school for children of the area.

He entered St. Lawrence University at Canton, N.Y., on $1,000 which his father had obtained by mortgaging the farm.

Young was graduated at the age of 20 in 1894 and then finished a three-year law course at Boston University in two years.

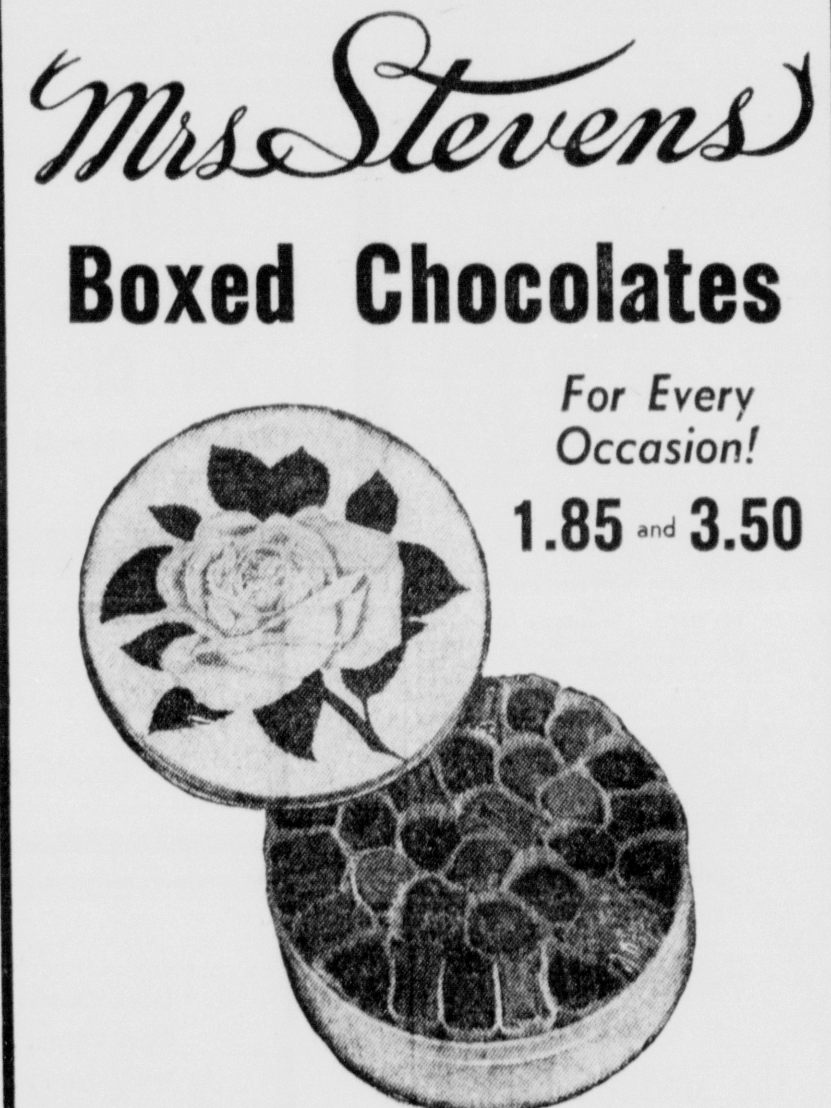

He began the practice of law in Boston and became a partner in the firm of Tyler & Young.

His law work placed him in contact with the engineering firm of Stone & Webster. This gave him an intimate knowledge of electrical development. His ability attracted the attention of General Electric.

Young joined General Electric as a member of its legal department and became its board chairman in 1922. He held that post until his retirement in 1939.

France, England Send TV Shows Across Ocean

Wednesday, the pictures and the sound were described as excellent. Later, the British station picked up the French telecast via Telstat.

British Broadcasting Co. officials didn't like what they saw this time.

In a television newscast, a BBC commentator accused the French of jumping the gun in bidding to be the first European country to beam an entertainment program across the Atlantic.

The commentator said the French had broken an agreement with the European Broadcasting Union which provided for a joint European television program to be transmitted via Telstar to the United States July 23.

On the same day, the three major American networks will transmit a 15-minute news program to Europe via Telstar.

The date for the exchange was chosen because it is the first on which programs of equal length can be transmitted during successive orbits of the satellite and shown on each continent during normal viewing hours.

The American program will be sent from the giant horn antenna at the Bell Telephone ground station in Andover, to Goshilly Downs via Telstar. The English station will relay the signal throughout Europe.

Nation Heads For Another Reduced Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation is headed for its second successive year of reduced crop production. But there is no cause for concern. Food and fiber supplies will be plentiful.

An Agriculture Department crop survey showed Tuesday that the acreage to be harvested this year will be the smallest since 1909. No estimate of the total volume of production was given, but officials said the outlook is for ample supplies of all crops.

The acreage to be harvested was forecast at 288 million acres, down 8 million acres or 3 per cent from last year. This compares with 352 million acres harvested as late as 13 years ago.

Since 1949, acreages have been declining under influence of agriculture's increasing efficiency and retirement of land under government crop control programs.

The department delayed until next month an estimate on the prospective total crop volume. Nevertheless, a smaller volume was indicated by the reduced acreage and by a department forecast that average acre yield will be somewhat below last year's high levels, although still above average.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farm employment increased 7 per cent during June but was 3 per cent under that of a year ago.

Reporting this, the Agriculture Department said total employment late in June was 8,043,000 compared with 8,324,000 a year earlier. Family workers made up more than two-thirds of the farm working force this year.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Farm officials say the nation's hog farmers are doing a remarkably good job stabilizing production — and hence their prices and income.

Not since 1956 have hog producers really suffered at the market place. That year a big step in production brought prices tumbling to levels that caused heavy losses.

Since then production has been held at levels conducive to relatively favorable prices. In a five-stock report today, the Agriculture Department said that if farmers carry out recently indicated plans for the 1962 fall pig crop, hog prices in the first half of 1963 will average slightly above prices the first half of this year. A fall pig crop only 1 per cent above the 1961 crop has been indicated.

The stability of production was shown in a recent survey which showed the 1962 spring pig crop was 2 per cent less than the 1961 spring crop.

Dear Abby:

Consult Your Parents—Now!

DEAR ABBY: This is urgent I MUST know at once in which states you can get married (A) without a waiting period and (B) without a blood test; (C) how old must the boy be and how old must the girl be to marry without the consent of their parents; (D) if you lie about your age, is the marriage legal; (E) how can you tell for sure if you are expecting without going to a doctor?

IN A HURRY
DEAR IN: In reply to questions A, B, C, AND D: The requirements differ in the various states. Call your local County Court-house or the Justice of the Peace. All lawyers or clergymen have this information. In reply to E: You can't—until it's too late. You sound as though you need to have a long talk with your parents. I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was invited by a classmate to spend the week-end "vacationing" at his family's seaside cottage. I accepted. We took a ride on their boat for an hour on Friday, which was the only time we got near the water. Then he suggested we get some "exercise." So we spent all day Saturday and Sunday rebuilding a sea wall, mowing the grass and weeding the garden. I appreciated the invitation, but I could have stayed home and worked on my own lawn. How does one reciprocate for a "vacation" like that?

A "GUEST"
DEAR GUEST: Invite your "host" to your place one week-end and treat him to a little "exercise" on YOUR property.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend whose husband is in the hospital. He has been there for over a month. It's nothing serious, only a back injury. He calls all the nurses, aids and maids by their first names and acts very flirtly with them. When his wife comes to visit him he introduces her as his MOTHER. She feels hurt, but what can she say? She has been thinking about bringing a strange man to the hospital to him as her FATHER. Would that work?

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: If you would keep a friend, BE one. And stay out of the horseplay.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LILY AT VEGAS: One rarely throws rice at a guy who throws dice. Yours could be a long wait.

How is the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Consult Your Parents—Now!

DEAR ABBY: This is urgent. I MUST know at once in which states you can get married (A) without a waiting period and (B) without a blood test; (C) how old must the boy be and how old must the girl be to marry without the consent of their parents; (D) if you lie about your age, is the marriage legal; (E) how can you tell for sure if you are expecting without going to a doctor?

IN A HURRY
DEAR IN: In reply to questions A, B, C, AND D: The requirements differ in the various states. Call your local County Court-house or the Justice of the Peace. All lawyers or clergymen have this information. In reply to E: You can't—until it's too late. You sound as though you need to have a long talk with your parents. I recommend it.

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was invited by a classmate to spend the week-end "vacationing" at his family's seaside cottage. I accepted. We took a ride on their boat for an hour on Friday, which was the only time we got near the water. Then he suggested we get some "exercise." So we spent all day Saturday and Sunday rebuilding a sea wall, mowing the grass and weeding the garden. I appreciated the invitation, but I could have stayed home and worked on my own lawn. How does one reciprocate for a "vacation" like that?

A "GUEST"
DEAR GUEST: Invite your "host" to your place one week-end and treat him to a little "exercise" on YOUR property.

DEAR ABBY: I have a dear friend whose husband is in the hospital. He has been there for over a month. It's nothing serious, only a back injury. He calls all the nurses, aids and maids by their first names and acts very flirty with them. When his wife comes to visit him he introduces her as his MOTHER. She feels hurt, but what can she say? She has been thinking about bringing a strange man to the hospital to him as her FATHER. Would that work?

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: If you would keep a friend, BE one. And stay out of the horseplay.

CONFIDENTIAL TO LILY AT VEGAS: One rarely throws rice at a guy who throws dice. Yours could be a long wait.

How is the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of this paper.

Home Children Treated at Zoo

The 36 children of the Pickaway County Children's Home, along with five other central Ohio homes, were guests of the Columbus Auto Club at the Zoo Tuesday.

The children were given rides at the zoo park, toured the zoo, were entertained by Flippo the Clown and ate all the hotdogs, hamburgers, baked beans and peanuts they could hold.

The all-day outing is an annual affair sponsored by the Auto Club. This marks the 16th year that the Pickaway Home has made the trip according to superintendent of the home, Winfield Koch.

Each boy and girl attending the event was given a straw sombrero, a space capsule bank and a transistor radio.

Koch reported that he had little trouble keeping abreast of current events. The youngsters listen to their radios constantly and make periodic reports to him about the weather and news.

Circleville Swimmers Lose Dual AAU Meet

The Circleville Swim Club lost an AAU sanctioned dual swim meet at the Twin Towers Club in Grove City yesterday. The final score was 431-383.

It was the first AAU meet the local club has competed in this year, and the judges were strict according to Chuck Ransom, swim coach for the group.

Circleville swimmers in the first eight events were disqualified for various rule infractions.

Tomorrow the Roundtown swimmers leave for Gahanna at 4:30 p. m. The meet is scheduled to start at 5:30.

Ransom plans to take 27 youngsters to the Twin Towers Invitational Tuesday. There will be 22 teams in the event. Preliminaries are slated to begin at 10 a. m. and the final events will start at 7 p. m.

Palmer Zooms To Early Lead

Second Round Opens In British Tourney

TROON, Scotland (AP)—Arnold Palmer, the defending champion from Latrobe, Pa., equalled the course record at Old Troon with a brilliant 69 today and swept into the early lead after 36 holes in the British Open Golf Championship.

Palmer's 69 followed a first round 71 and gave him a 36-hole total of 140.

Palmer, who won the title last year at Birkdale in England, played sensationally on the back nine of the 7,045-yard, par-72 course.

Thrilling a crowd of 15,000 with a typical Palmer finish, the American Masters champion came back in 32, four under par, after going out in 37 on the second round. He had an eagle 3 at the notorious 485-yard 11th hole and he brought a shout of approval from the crowd at the 18th when he knocked in a seven-foot putt for a birdie.

Worrying about a bad back and wearing "longies" against the cold of the Scottish seacoast, Palmer shot a 71 Wednesday and thus was two shots behind little-known Keith MacDonald of England and one shot back of the formidable Australian, Peter Thomson.

That is just where Palmer wanted to be. He knows how to come from behind.

The eight-man American contingent went off in the early bracket today, one after the other. Only Palmer was in shape to really challenge for the title.

U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus was under the burden of a first-round 80. Gene Littler was little better off at 79, and Sam Snead could not feel superconfident at 76.

Thomson at 70, with all his experience as a four-time Open champion, had to be reckoned with. Kel Nagle, who beat Palmer by one shot at St. Andrews in 1960, was tied with Palmer at 71. Three strokes behind at 74, but ever dangerous, was Gary Player of South Africa.

Collegiate Grid Stars Open Prep

CHICAGO (AP)—A squad of 49 outstanding collegiate football players of 1961 reports to head coach Otto Graham at Northwestern University today to begin training for the All-Star game in Soldier Field Aug. 5.

The collegians have their job cut out for them. Their opponents will be the Green Bay Packers, who smashed the New York Giants 37-0 to win the 1961 National Football League championship.

The game will mark the Packers' fourth appearance in the series. They lost 6-0 in 1937, won 45-28 in 1940, and won 19-7 in 1945. The pros hold an 18-8 edge in the rivalry and two games have been ties. The last All-Star triumph was in 1958 when Graham, in his second year as head coach, directed the collegians to a 35-19 decision over the Detroit Lions.

Orioles Down IL All-Stars

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The International League got back to the business of chasing the Jacksonville Suns today, after time out for a crack at the major leaguers in the annual All-Star game.

The IL All-Stars were beaten by the Baltimore Orioles 8-5 at Rochester Wednesday night for the first time in the last four games.

The big boys beat the minor leaguers with big blows — home runs by Jim Gentile, Dick Williams and Gus Triandos. The Triandos blast opened a five-run eighth inning which gave the Orioles the edge they needed to offset a three-run All-Star uprising in the ninth.

The All-Star runs came on homers. Toronto outfielder Lou Johnson hit a two-run job in the first inning and Vic Davalillo of Jacksonville accounted for the ninth inning runs with his homer with two aboard.

Jack Fisher, who worked six innings, got the victory for the Orioles, and Carl Mathias, who pitched two innings, took the loss for the All-Stars.

3 Longshot Winners Steal Show at Scioto

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Twelve Scioto Downs' featured seventh race Wednesday night, but three longshot payoffs stole the show during the eight-event card. Kakalae won the second race and paid $45.40, Pilot Me took the sixth and returned $40.20, then Rudy Man copped the finale for $30.80.

Triworthy scored by three-quarters of a length over Meadow Dean in the C-2 pacing feature and paid $6.80.

Carmichael, Stahl Head Cast of Golfers In State Tournament

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A star-filled field of 64 opened four days of match play today in quest of Ohio's 56th Amateur Golf Championship.

Heading the cast were medalist Dan Carmichael of Columbus and defending champion Walter Stahl Jr. of Cleveland.

Arrayed against them were several other talented titleholders including Ed Preisler of Cleveland and Tony Blom of Cincinnati, both past winners of the Amateur; Alex Antonio Jr. of Hubbard, the current high school king and 1961 Junior ruler; Bob Littler Jr. of Athens, current Junior champion; Tom Weiskopf of Bedford, who holds both the state intercollegiate and public links titles; Don Albert of Columbus, former Big Ten champion, and Dr. Earl Pinnell of Dayton, winner of the state's first Presenior tournament.

Giving the man-to-man end of the tournament a football touch were former Ohio State stars Lew Hinchman of Dayton, Dick LeBeau of London, Pandel Savic of Columbus and Bill Peterson of Cleveland.

Seven of the 64 were among 14 who tied at 156 in the two-day 36-hole qualifier and were forced to play off in a sudden death test this morning. The other 57 represented 21 Ohio cities.

Carmichael romped over Dayton Country Club's 6,243-yard par 71 course in 68-72-140 to win the medal honors for the fourth time. He finished three strokes ahead of Blom and Dr. Harry Duccelli of Cincinnati, who finished as winner and runner-up, respectively, in the 1959 tournament, and Jim Kennedy, 27, of Shelby, making his first appearance in the tournament after having played for years as a public linker.

Of the 16 public links players in the record opening field of 246, seven made it into today's match play round. No fee course player has ever won the Amateur but several have reached the finals.

Two rounds of match play were scheduled today, slashing the field to 16. Two more are on tap Friday, clearing the way for Saturday's 36-hole semifinals and Sunday's championship match over the same route.

Ex-Findlay Prof Fights Deportation

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Nydia Barker Luthy, former Findlay College faculty member, has decided to fight a deportation order in a civil action at the same time she is preparing a defense against criminal charges of illegal re-entry into the United States.

The 50-year-old Ukrainian native, who joined Findlay College as head of the chemistry department in 1961 and was dropped from the faculty after her arrest in May, is free on $25,000 bond.

Monday one of Dr. Luthy's attorneys said she would not appeal the deportation order. But late Monday afternoon in Detroit another of her lawyers sent in the appeal.

Thomas M. Pederson, district immigration and naturalization director here, said the appeal arrived Tuesday and was postmarked prior to the Monday midnight deadline for filing. Pederson said the appeal will go to the Board of Immigration Appeals in Washington for final decision.

Fire Damage In Wilmington Is $100,000

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A blaze—which taxed three community fire departments to maximum effort—caused loss unofficially placed at $100,000, injured the son of Wilmington's fire chief and necessitated evacuation of 16 elderly people from a rest home on the top floor of an adjoining hotel Wednesday night.

In addition to Wilmington's own equipment, pumps from nearby Clinton County Air Force Base and Union Twp. fought the blaze as it swept through upper floors of a building occupied by the Clinton Sports Center and J. & W. Bowling Lanes.

Harry Hague IV, 18, son of Chief Harry Hague III, fell 25 feet as he attempted to direct a hose stream from his post on a ladder. The youth, a volunteer member of the city's combined paid-and-volunteer 16-man force. He suffered injuries to his head, back and arm.

The 16 elderly men and women who were led to safety were residents of the Happy Hours Rest Home which occupies the top floor of the four-story General Denver Hotel.

Toledo Seeks 4th Man in Bank Holdup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—With three men already in jail and nearly three-fourths of the $12,264 loot recovered, Toledo police asked a nationwide help today in rounding up a fourth man in Tuesday's holdup at the East Side branch of the National Bank of Toledo.

Detective Sgt. Eugene Louy said a warrant was issued for Marshall Chrisman, 36, as the missing member of the holdup quartet.

Robert Mooneyham, 26 of Toledo was picked up four hours after the holdup while driving a car in which $1,890 was found. Interrogation of Mooneyham led to the other arrests Wednesday.

Detectives said Charles Shatto, 37, was taken into custody at his home here and Raleigh Brown, 21, at his apartment. A shaving kit containing $3,000 was found at Shatto's home and he admitted driving the get-away car in the robbery, police said. Browning denied participating in the holdup, but $3,038 was found in his apartment, officers said.

Ex-Findlay Prof Fights Deportation

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dr. Nydia Barker Luthy, former Findlay College faculty member, has decided to fight a deportation order in a civil action at the same time she is preparing a defense against criminal charges of illegal re-entry into the United States.

The 50-year-old Ukrainian native, who joined Findlay College as head of the chemistry department in 1961 and was dropped from the faculty after her arrest in May, is free on $25,000 bond. Monday one of Dr. Luthy's attorneys said she would not appeal the deportation order. But late Monday afternoon in Detroit another of her lawyers sent in the appeal.

Thomas M. Pederson, district immigration and naturalization director here, said the appeal arrived Tuesday and was postmarked prior to the Monday midnight deadline for filing. Pederson said the appeal will go to the Board of Immigration Appeals in Washington for final decision.

Fire Damage In Wilmington Is $100,000

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—A blaze which taxed three community fire departments to maximum effort—caused loss unofficially placed at $100,000, injured the son of Wilmington's fire chief and necessitated evacuation of 16 elderly people from a rest home on the top floor of an adjoining hotel Wednesday night.

In addition to Wilmington's own equipment, pumpers from nearby Clinton County Air Force Base and Union Twp. fought the blaze as it swept through upper floors of a building occupied by the Clinton Sports Center and J. & W. Bowling Lanes.

Harry Hague IV, 18, son of Chief Harry Hague III, fell 25 feet as he attempted to direct a hose stream from his post on a ladder. The youth, a volunteer member of the city's combined paid-and-volunteer 16-man force. He suffered injuries to his head, back and arm.

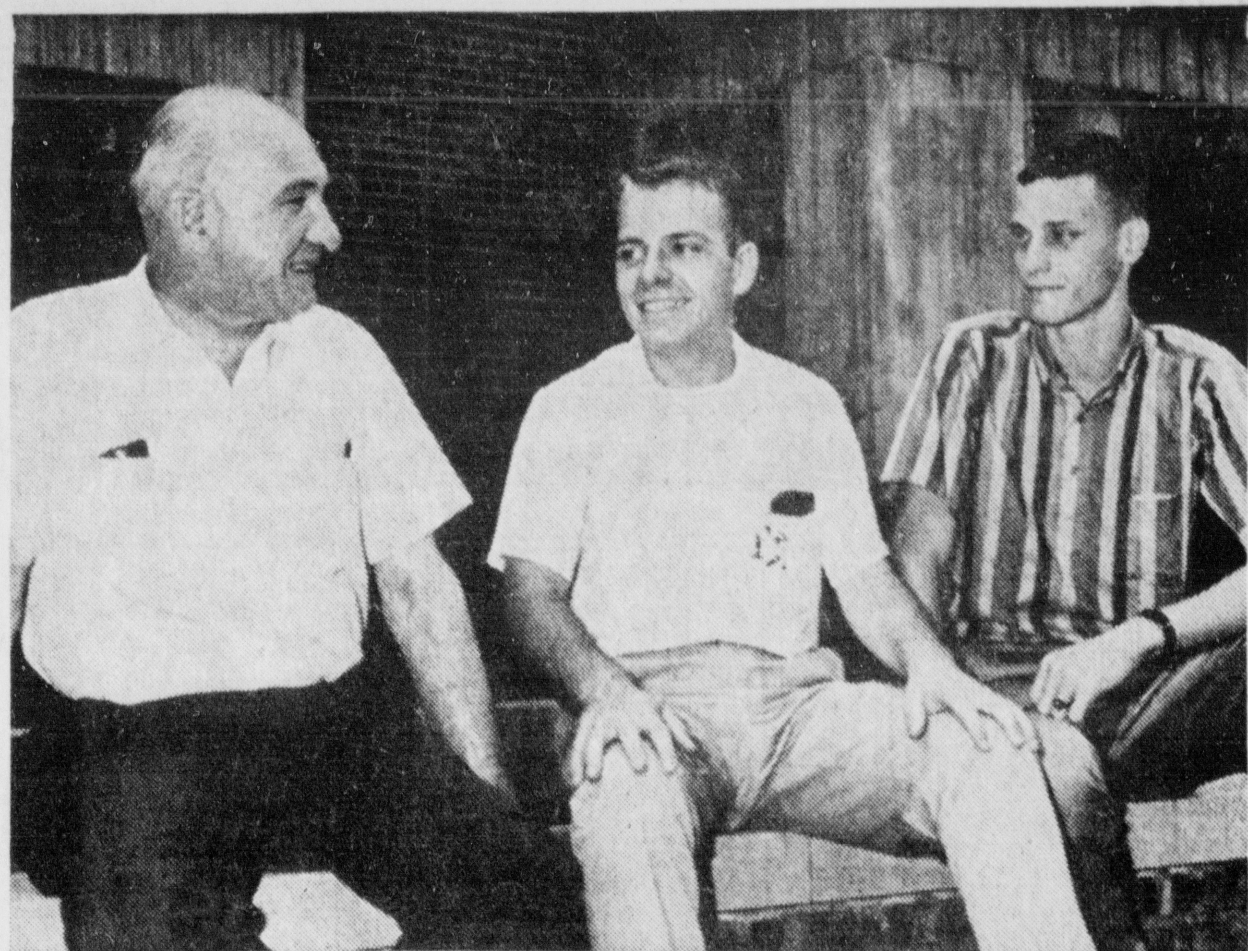

The 16 elderly men and women who were led to safety were residents of the Happy Hours Rest Home which occupies the top floor of the four-story General Denver Hotel.

Toledo Seeks 4th Man in Bank Holdup

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—With three men already in jail and nearly three-fourths of the $12,264 loot recovered, Toledo police asked a nationwide help today in rounding up a fourth man in Tuesday's holdup at the East Side branch of the National Bank of Toledo.

Detective Sgt. Eugene Louy said a warrant was issued for Marshall Chrisman, 36, as the missing member of the holdup quartet.

Robert Mooneyham, 26 of Toledo was picked up four hours after the holdup while driving a car in which $1,890 was found. Interrogation of Mooneyham led to the other arrests Wednesday.

Detectives said Charles Shatto, 37, was taken into custody at his home here and Raleigh Browning, 21, at his apartment. A shaving kit containing $3,090 was found at Shatto's home and he admitted driving the get-away car in the robbery, police said.
